Transformation Enablers

- 24 April:
  Enlivening Narratives
  Empowering Metrics
- 26 April:
  Life-Enhancing Innovation
  Guiding Regulations
- 28 April:
  Enabling Structures Multi-Stakeholder Governance

Conference Goals

- Celebrate and learn from transformation practitioners, partners, funders, and academics
- Discuss entrenched transformation challenges and possible solutions
- Help enliven a community for leading transformative change collectively

Conference Norms

- Embody respect in all our interactions and patience with any technical glitches
- Express our views clearly and concisely
- Listen with an attitude of seeking to understand
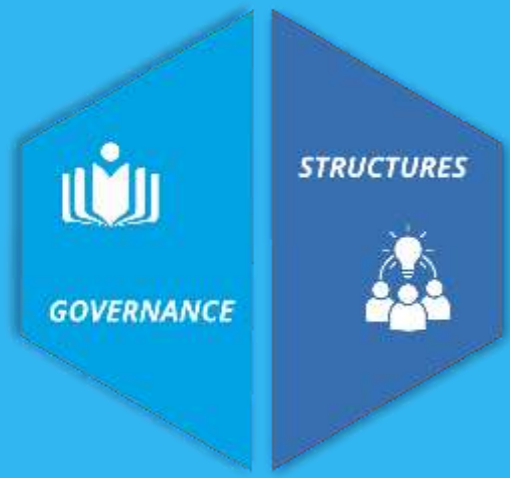
- Suspend our own judgements and remain open to others' perspectives

Multi-level Governance and Enabling Structures

Transformation efforts through the lens of Governance and Democracy



Multi-level Governance emerges when

- Arrange for issue-based, multi-level stakeholder consultation
- Combine different cross-sector and complementary collaboration ecosystems
- Include peer reviews and regular learning mechanisms

The Democracy and Governance lens:

- Foster decentralized governance systems
- Reflect on options for different decision-making processes
- Strengthen civil society wherever possible

Enabling Structures emerge when

- Where possible embed transformation stewardship in structures and strategies
- Build networks across existing structures around topics and issues
- Establish committees, councils or coordination structures where required

The Democracy and Governance lens:

- Strengthen decentralized democratic structures
- Support or build different networks around and across (dysfunctional) structures
- Consider entry points around mental, institutional, legal and physical structures

Governance and Structures – their connection

- Networks are both a structure and a form of organizing exchange and collaboration
- Structures influence the governance process, and vice versa
- Sufficient diversity in governance systems paves the way for functioning collaboration structures
